Knowland Renews Call For Diplomatic Break With Russia

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) renewed today his call for a diplomatic break with Russia, saying the action would impose a "moral sanction" against any further expansion of Communist influence.

He spoke out in an interview after a bipartisan conference of congressional leaders with President Eisenhower Wednesday.

Eisenhower has rejected a previous proposal by Knowland for a break in diplomatic relations with Moscow, declaring that a way of living together in peace with the Russians must be found.

No Emergency Seen

Knowland criticized talk of "peaceful coexistence" with Russia in the Senate Monday. There should be a searching congressional review of the nation's foreign and defense policy, he said, to determine whether it needs "a basic change."

Secretary of State Dulles subsequently said the free nations, largely under U.S. leadership, have strengthened themselves against Communist pressure, and that he knew of no emergency requiring a special review. Secretary of Defense Wilson said the alternative to some form of peace-

Flint Witness Objects To New Immunity Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic member of the House un-American Activities Committee suggested Wednesday that the Congressional investigating group use a recently passed immunity law in an effort to draw information from a reluctant Michigan witness.

But the proposal, made by Rep. Walter (D-Pa.), was tabled when James A. Coleman, of Flint, objected to its use in his case.

Coleman, whom acting chairman Clardy (R-Mich.) described as "the most contemptuous witness I've ever heard," invoked the Fifth Amendment repeatedly when asked to answer questions about his activities.

Coleman, a Negro, accused the committee of "anti-Negro discrimination." He said the committee had been "contemptuous" of his rights.

Walter, who will take over as committee chairman when the Democrats reorganize the House in January suggested that Coleman's refusal to answer be used to test the new immunity law.

The law, passed in the last session of Congress, allows Congressional investigating committees to obtain grants of immunity from U.S. District Courts to compel witnesses to testify about matters in the interest of the national security.

Another Michigan witness, Robert A. Carter, regional director of the CIO United Auto Workers (UAW) at Flint, told the group he has "no legal" evidence concerning the Communist connections of anyone.

Committee Counsel Frank Travener made it clear the investigators had no concern with Carter's personal conduct but were interested only in any help he might give the group.

ful coexistence is war. Knowland said he believes there are several ways short of war in which the Soviets could be put on the defensive. A break in diplomatic relations, he said, would provide a "moral sanction" which would make the rest of the world sit up and take notice.

Russia Having Troubles?

Others who conferred with Eisenhower and Dulles Wednesday on foreign and defense policies reported what seemed to add up to a lessening of tension.

Sen. George (D-Ga.) and other conferees said Eisenhower and Dulles indicated a belief that the Russians are encountering internal difficulties within their satellite countries, with a consequent weakening in the Soviet's world position.

A White House statement said Eisenhower called at the meeting for a "continuing bipartisan approach to foreign affairs and national security matters."

Conferees said the President assured Democrats they will be consulted in advance of decisions on critical issues.

Cadillac Boy Held For Murder In Gun Killing Of Farmer

(By The Associated Press)

A 15-year-old Cadillac boy today was ordered to stand trial on a first degree murder charge in the fatal shooting of a 68-year-old deer hunter—one of four to die by gunfire since Michigan's big game season opened Monday.

He is Mike Stevens. Wexford County Prosecutor William R. Peterson said Stevens admitted shooting to death Hugo Flake, retired Carsonville farmer, but claimed it was an accident.

Probate Judge Elmer Sherwood of Kalkaska County waived juvenile jurisdiction over Stevens to permit his being tried as an adult. Sherwood sat in the absence of Wexford Probate Judge Allison Webb—who was deer hunting in the Upper Peninsula.

Stevens waived examination before Justice Victor Anderson at Cadillac and was remanded to the Wexford County jail without bond to await circuit court trial in January.

Flake was shot three times in the back of the head and neck Tuesday.

Peterson said the shooting "certainly has the appearance of not being a hunting accident."

Stevens was held at the Wexford County jail at Cadillac.

Curious New Drug Stops Worst Pain

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The "worst pain in the world" is being stopped by curious new drug described today to the American College of Surgeons.

The pain comes from a nerve ailment in the face—tic doloreux—fairly common after 40. Attacks can last steadily for two to three weeks. Victims can't eat, or even shave. Some commit suicide from the agony. Many doctors agree with victims that it's the worst pain in the world.

Acts On Nerve

Surgery cutting the face nerve has been the best remedy. But that causes loss of all sensation in one side of the face, sometimes leads to eye complications and loss of an eye.

A fairly new drug, stibamidine, seems to paralyze or somehow strike at the face nerve causing all the pain. And it apparently acts only on that nerve.

The clue that stibamidine might be good came after it had been given to people suffering from internal fungus diseases. These patients after a time said their cheeks felt numb.

That gave Dr. George W. Smith, neurosurgeon of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, and Dr. Joseph M. Miller, Veterans Administration Hospital, Fort Howard, Md., the idea of trying it against tic doloreux.

Taken By Mouth

The drug has completely banished pain in 15 of the first 16 patients treated, Smith said. The first patient so far has been free of pain for 25 months. One of the 16 has had 80 per cent relief of pain, but he may have some other condition besides the nerve trouble.

How permanent the pain-killing remains to be seen. The attacks usually come every five or six months at least. Other medical treatments haven't extended that freedom period much more than six months.

Stibamidine works in a curious way. Daily doses are given only for the first 14 days. After a week, the pain starts to go away, but it comes back after about two weeks. Then—with no more drug given—the pain disappears one to four months after treatment had started.

Why the drug behaves this way is not clear, Smith said.

The drug can be taken by mouth.

Wood Ibises Clever Birds

Wood ibises scratch the bottoms of shallow Florida ponds with their feet, muddying the water so thoroughly that fish rise to the surface. Within each reach, the fish then fall victims to the birds' appetite, says the National Geographic Society. A gregarious creature, the wood ibis feeds as well as nests in large flocks. It seizes its prey in a powerful, nine-inch beak, not stabbing its meal like the heron.

Rain Breaks Long Dry Spell

Freak weather continues in Escanaba and vicinity with a trace of rain breaking a long dry spell but with temperatures remaining unseasonably high.

Temperatures remained at about 47 yesterday, but with nightfall it moderated still further. By 9 the Escanaba weather reading stood at 51. By 7:30 this morning it was down to 47 and at 10 a.m. was at 50. It is likely to reach 55 before nightfall, says S. E. Decker, in charge of the local weather bureau.

It will be somewhat cooler tomorrow, but the mild weather will continue, Decker states.

The normal temperatures for today, based on averages throughout the years, is 39 high and 27 low.

Records show that last year's weather for Nov. 18 was almost the same as today—55 high and 49 low. The coldest local weather on that date was in 1880 when an even zero was recorded.

Check of Yule Trees Started At Wisconsin Line

MENOMINEE — Checking of trucks carrying Christmas trees and evergreen boughs out of the U. P. was started this week by Arthur H. Wickman, Carney, at the checking station on 10th St. at Spies Athletic Field. The check will continue into mid-December. Last year about 100,000 Christmas trees were checked through the local station.

Truckers carrying trees or boughs must show bills of sale which are prepared in triplicate, with the land owner keeping one, another going to the State Department of Agriculture and the third is retained by the trucker. Purpose of the check is to protect private and public lands from Christmas tree poaching.

Wickman reports several trucks being checked daily, but the peak is not expected to be reached until the early part of December. Most trees are consigned to dealers in Chicago and Milwaukee, but some U. P. operators maintain their own lots in these centers for sale of trees.

Detroit Judge Grieves Loss Of Marked Cards

By DON GILLIES

Detroit Times Outdoor Editor
MUNISING—Judge Joe Gillis of Detroit had more troubles on his deer hunting expedition to the Upper Peninsula this year than any other time in his life.

Flying up to Escanaba via North Central Airlines, his baggage, consisting of a bow and arrow, a German Luger pistol, pajamas and two marked decks of playing cards were taken off the plane at Traverse City by mistake.

Judge Gillis is hunting at Camp Kennedy, owned by Joe Levy, well known Detroit trucker and a group of Detroit sportsmen. Said Judge Gillis:

"I didn't care so much about my bow and arrow or my pajamas, but I spent a full week working on those playing cards. I planned to have a lot of fun during this deer season."

Hunting at Camp Kennedy, ex-Governor Green's camp, are Leo Sherrill, of Royal Oak, "Doc" Kriebel of River Rouge, Jack Madigan of Mt. Clemens, Glen Green of Dearborn, J. J. Levy of Royal Oak, Homer Brown, W. Niles and Judge Gillis, the latter three from Detroit.

Green, Brown and J. J. Levy, were the only hunters in the party to bag bucks. Green shot a 10 pointer, while Levy and Brown, both connected with four pointers. Because of warm weather, all three bucks were rushed to a locker plant.

Foggy, rainy and warm weather plagued hunters during the third day of the season. Because of the adverse conditions, few deer were moving around yesterday and few shots were heard in the woods.

Lighter Kill Reported

State Conservation officials reported fewer deer were being shot than normally and said they thought the kill in the Upper Peninsula would be less than in past years.

State Police reported that despite early estimates, the traffic across the Straits of Mackinac for the five day period ending yesterday was 22,087 vehicles—only 29 more than last year. The crush of traffic which at one time reached 18 hours came all at once.

Director of Traffic Jim Hoye of the Detroit police department hunting with Jim Herrington and John Griffin of Detroit failed to bag bucks Tuesday and yesterday. They did not hunt opening day.

Bill Allen of Detroit hunting at Little Indian Lodge near Munising said he saw three deer in three days, but all were "bareheaded" meaning no horns.

One of his party, Tommy Cummins of Detroit bagged a six pointer that weighed 150 pounds. Others in the party are Ceci Haugh, Bob Frost, Bob Gehle, Bert Wilson, Ronnie Cathcart, Harvey Martin and Stewart Wilson, all from Detroit.

Norden had killed a deer and requested a permit to take the animal out of the state to Wisconsin at the time of his arrest. The deer was confiscated. He paid $7.80 in court costs after appearing before Justice A. T. Sohlberg at Gladstone last evening.

State Police ticketed Wilfred Nickel, 20, of Armada, Mich., for driving on the wrong side of the road, following a three car accident at 4 p.m. Wednesday on M-94, five miles south of Shingleton.

State Police report that Nickel was coming south on the highway on the wrong side, and a car driven by Cleophas Metcalf, 33, was going north and had to swerve right to dodge Nickel's car. While swerving, the Metcalf vehicle sideswiped Nickel's car and a parked car on the right side of the road, owned by William Clark, 40, of Moores Hill, Ind.

The left side of Nickel's car and the left and right sides of the Metcalf car were damaged. The parked car was not damaged.

Cpl. and Mrs. Wilbur Oman Jr. visited during the past week at the home of Mrs. Antoinette Deloria. He has been discharged from the service and they will make their home in Escanaba.

Chicago Nuclear Expert Honored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Italian-born physicist Enrico Fermi, who pioneered in the development of the first atomic bomb, is the winner of the Atomic Energy Commission's first special award for outstanding achievement in the nuclear field.

The AEC announced Tuesday that Dr. Fermi, builder of America's first nuclear reactor which made the A-bomb possible, would get $25,000 for his accomplishments which the commission described as of "tremendous importance."

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said in a statement that "as much as any individual, he is responsible for the achievement of the controlled release of nuclear energy."

In Chicago, Dr. Fermi said he was "deeply honored and gratified." He now is a physics professor at the University of Chicago's Institute for Nuclear Studies. He is a Nobel prize winner.

Illegal Entry Brings Sentence

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — George Frederick Proctor, 30, Toronto, Can., won't be crossing the border for the next two years.

An old hand at illegal entry, the Canadian was sentenced to a two-year term, the maximum, on his latest conviction. On five occasions, Proctor was arrested on similar charges and deported. His last previous court appearance was in St. Paul, Minn., in August of 1953. At that time he got a six-month sentence.

Made Commodore In Oklahoma Navy

CONCORD, N. H. (AP) — Cornelius A. Brinkmann, state director of Civil Defense, has been made an honorary commodore in the Oklahoma Navy—roughly equivalent to a Kentucky colonel.

Most people would consider this a promotion. However, Brinkmann retired from the U. S. Navy in 1947, after 36 years service, with the flag rank of rear admiral—one notch above commodore.

Sugar Industry Coins New Word

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii's sugar industry has a new word—surochemistry—and the industry is hopeful it spells out new markets. Surochemistry was coined by Dr. Henry B. Experiments are going on for the production of such things as detergents, plastics, fibers, rubbers, solvents, insecticides and adhesives.

Darning Needle Death Unsolved

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The mysterious death of Peter L. Pivaroff from a darning needle in the heart was a "homicide by a person or persons unknown," a coroner's jury held Tuesday.

Detectives who investigated the case had virtually ruled out the possibility the 35-year-old cabinetmaker was slain.

Pivaroff died last Wednesday, 26 hours after being admitted to a hospital with an apparent heart ailment. X-rays shortly before he died showed a 2½-inch needle had entered between his fourth and fifth ribs, penetrating his heart. The victim's brother, Paul Pivaroff, a merchant mariner, testified Tuesday that the cabinetmaker "was always getting into barroom brawls." The widow, June Pivaroff, told the coroner's jury her husband was a heavy drinker. The brother said Pivaroff never

"Please send me two copies of every law that North Carolinians are supposed to abide by. These I want included in them: (1) All laws of driving; (2) All laws of slander, etc.; (3) Plus every other law(s) you can supply me with."

Secretary of State Thad Eure got the problem.

"Two copies of every law?" he mused. "Why, they're stacked there upstairs, tier upon tier, right up to the ceiling and all around that big room."

"I know what I'll do," he concluded, "I'll invite him to come here and browse around our store-room. Let him see the situation himself."

had mentioned suicide. Pivaroff himself threw no light on the mystery before he died.

Persistent Explorers Seek Secrets Of Antarctica

WASHINGTON—The United States is again preparing a "major research" assault on secrets locked in the great white wastes of the Antarctic.

Since the early 1770's, when Captain James Cook circled the ice-barricaded southernmost continent without catching sight of it, men of many nations have probed the Antarctic, says the National Geographic Society.

Yet despite daring thrusts to the South Pole, modern aerial surveys and patient scientific studies carried on at lonely, snowbound camps, much of this last land frontier of the world remains shrouded in mystery.

College Prof Gives Mothers Vacations

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP)—Every year, Dr. Earl J. Baker gives a free "dream vacation" to 25 lucky Michigan mothers at one of the city's plush resorts. Dr. Baker, a former philosophy professor, started the idea as a memorial to his own mother. Preference is given to widows and to women with large families. The 1954 group of 25 had 212 children between them.

Goldenrod Is Falsely Blamed

Ragweed rather than goldenrod sets hay-fever victims to sneezing. Many sufferers wrongly blame goldenrod, according to the National Geographic Society. Its pollen actually is too heavy to ride the wind. Ragweed pollen, on the other hand, spreads even on light breezes.

Playing Cards Oldest Printing

Playing cards rank among the oldest printed matter on earth. Block-printed playing cards were in use all over Europe by 1400 more than half a century before the Gutenberg Bible was printed.

FLORENCE, S. C. (AP)—The special guest at an Exchange Club fire prevention program was J. A. Sinoak.

The first stage of the current American project is under the direction of the United States Navy, which will send out an ice-breaker in December during the Antarctic summer.

World Scientists Cooperate

Other expeditions are expected to continue the work through several seasons, culminating in United States participation in the International Geophysical Year of 1957-58. At that time worldwide scientific findings will be correlated by cooperating countries.

The American explorers will collect information on the Antarctic's geography, its resources and atmosphere, the melting polar cap, the effect of the chilly land mass of the world's weather, and problems of transport and supply. Some preliminary camp building is planned.

The last expeditions sent out from the United States were in 1946-47 and 1946-48. They were directed respectively by the United States Navy and an independent Antarctic explorer, Commander Finn Ronne (USNR).

The Navy undertaking—led by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd—was the largest in polar history. Four thousand men and 13 ships took part.

Out of Operation Highjump, as it was officially called, came new facts for mapmakers, geologists, meteorologists and biologists. Photo-mapping airplanes based at Little America made 29 inland flights that reached toward the Pole and beyond. Seaplanes from offshore tenders mapped most of the coastline. High mountain ranges, peninsulas, islands and seas were charted for the first time. To their surprise, the explorers came on ice-free "oases" of green lakes and brown hills.

One-Piece Continent

The Ronne expedition, carrying on through the Antarctic winter of 1947, found evidence that the continent is one piece, and not, as had been theorized, split by a strait between the Weddell and Ross Seas.

Meantime, other nations were setting up temporary and permanent bases. Seven countries—Britain, France, Australia, Norway, Argentina, Chile and New Zealand—have claimed portions of the continent. The United States, however, has made no claim and recognized none.

Admiral Byrd, a Life Trustee of the National Geographic Society and technical adviser for the Navy's forthcoming expedition, was the first man to fly over both North and South Poles. He has led four American expeditions to the Antarctic, the first two of which were aided by substantial grants from the Society.

Cardinal Says Fund To Oust McCarthy Is None Of His Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman says it is "none of my business" that Msgr. Edward Martin has claimed to know of a five million dollar fund raised to oust Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) from the Senate because of McCarthy's Catholic ideals.

The New York cardinal, in Washington for a meeting of Catholic bishops, talked briefly with newsmen after a short call on President Eisenhower Tuesday.

He said he thanked the President for attending a recent New York dinner in honor of the late Al Smith, and otherwise they talked only in generalities.

Then Spellman was asked about the talk given by Martin at a breakfast meeting of Catholic War Veterans in New York last weekend in which the churchman said he knows of a big anti-McCarthy fund. Martin represented Spellman at the affair but Catholic leaders have indicated he was speaking only for himself.

"I don't know anything about it," the cardinal said. "It's none of my business. Everybody is a free American citizen and they can do what they want to do so far as I'm concerned."

Shipping Fraud Charge Dropped

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today dropped an indictment accusing brig. Gen. Julius C. Holmes, a State Department career officer, and E. Stanley Klein of conspiring to violate the Shipping Act in connection with postwar tanker deals.

U. S. Dist. Judge William Morris dismissed the indictment against Holmes and Klein, a New York financier, at the request of Allen J. Krause, a special assistant to the attorney general.

The action marked the conclusion of one of two big postwar shipping cases here.

Holmes' attorney, Hazard Gilpin of New York, told Judge Morris that Holmes had never asked the government to drop the indictment against him but had argued a speedy trial of the case on its merits.

Holmes is a former U.S. minister to London who has been on leave from the State Department pending disposition of the case. He pres adsaed qmipm kue parup sem Four corporations named in the indictment paid fines of $5,000 each. Including Holmes and Klein charges have now been dismissed against all 11 individual defendants.

Their indictment grew out of the transfer of surplus tankers from the American Overseas Tankers Corp. to foreign flags. The government charged this violated the sales contract which provided the vessels could be transferred to alien ownership only with the consent of the Maritime Commission.

California Condor Nears Extinction

The nine-foot wingspread of the California condor is larger than that of any other North American land bird, says the National Geographic Society. However, there are only about 60 left. A century ago the huge birds were seen from the Columbia River to southern California. Today they inhabit only a narrow isolated area in the State's mountains. Slow to reproduce and wary, they adapt with difficulty to man's encroachment. Loud noises a mile away alarm the carrion eaters, and a man's nearby presence can keep a pair of condors from the nest all night.

Burma Has High Snake Bite Rate

The western diamondback rattler probably kills more people than any other United States snake, says the National Geographic Society. Over the world, almost 40,000 persons die of snakebite each year. Burma has the highest rate: 15.4 persons annually per 100,000 population.

African Tribesmen Primitive People

The Masai tribesmen of Kenya and Tanganyika have no written language, says the National Geographic Society. They have never adopted the wheel; donkeys provide transport. Nor do they build boats, because they live near no large body of water.

Leather Look For Separates

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The popularity of leather such that you see it everywhere this season. Simulated leather (vinyl plastic) not only looks like real leather, but is a fine substitute for the girl who must count pennies. Just a few whisks with a sudsy, soapy cloth is all that is needed to keep leather-like items in top-notch condition.

Most women will delight in slim skirts and matching vests of simulated leather. These separates look smart when teamed with long-sleeved, striped, cotton blouses.

The classic white shirt takes on a smarter look when trimmed with matching leather collar and cuffs in sparkling fall colors — turquoise, copper, bright blue and tangerine.

Simulated capeskin blazers are expected to become very popular with the teen-age crowd. An especially smart blazer is the white jacket, piped with red or black, with a colorful crest on the pocket.

Some of these new jackets feature high-standing collars and substitute huge buckles instead of buttons.

Because of their fine washability, simulated leathers are ideal for junior's rough-and-ready wardrobe. Coats and jackets for the small-fry set are lined with milium to keep junior warm in cold weather. These interlinings also help to insure the shapeliness and fit of these coats.

The budget-minded mother will save by noticing that simulated leather makes good, firm, elbow-and-knee patches for junior's cloth jackets and dungarees.

One touch of fur is essential to the ensemble and to suits this season. Larry Aldrich applies mink (left) to the jacket of a black wool dress with full pleated skirt. For a costume (center) in wool-and-rabbit hair cloth, Herbert Sonnheim uses a detachable front hood

BY GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Fashions for fall start with daytime wear and go right into evening. Fur may be a small collar, a deep collar, cuffs or even a tuxedo front.

The featherweight tweed suit (black-gray streaked with white) has a collar of snowy ermine this year. This is a definitely citified suit, looking right for dressy afternoons or even for evening.

The tuxedo front in shining black fox has been applied to a loose, hip-length jacket worn with slim skirt. And for a champagne monotone jacket and dress ensemble, there's a collar of nutria.

The daytime and after suit appears again in a slim version, the fabric a brown-and-white tweed with natural mink Peter Pan collar. And for a dusky gray tweed two-piece costume, there's black sealskin at neck and wrists.

Fur trim keeps company with fabrics other than tweed this year. It's a good companion to smooth black broadcloth, to wools and flannels. Whatever the fabric, fur appears most often in collar form since it performs the ultimate in flattery when it's next to a pretty face.

Make sure the spice bag you use for making pickles is a clean, thin, white cloth large enough so juices can circulate through the spices and draw out the flavor, advise M.S.C. home economists.

For cooked pickles use kettles of enamelware, aluminum or stainless steel to heat the acid pickling liquids, says M.S.C. foods specialists. Do not use copper or galvanized containers.

On the average, you figure on getting from 18 to 24 quarts of canned peaches from one bushel (48 pounds) of the fresh fruit, according to M.S.C. home economists.

Contract Bridge

By Josephine Culbertson

FUTILE PLANS
It is remarkable (but true) that many declarers embark on a line of play that can't bring home the contract, even with good luck. Here's an example:

North dealer.

East-West vulnerable.

♦ K96	N	♦ J108
♦ Q1074	W	♦ J9862
♦ J96	E	♦ Q10
♦ A105	S	♦ J72
♦ Q732
♦ A5
♦ AK8543

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♦	Pass
2 ♦	Pass	2 N T	Pass
3 N T	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the four of hearts. South studied the hand for a moment, scowled unhappily, and then, having put up the heart king, cleared his diamond suit, cashing the tops and conceding the third round. West knocked out South's ace of hearts and, having noted East's encouraging signals, later discarded his queen of hearts, holding the ten. The upshot was that declarer could never get the needed ninth trick.

A simple count of tricks should have told South that the immediate establishment of diamonds could scarcely succeed. Presumably, he felt that there was not much hope in the club suit since he himself had a singleton, but what he overlooked was that one club trick would probably give him clear sailing.

The proper method of playing this sort of hand is to win the first trick with the heart ace and immediately to lead the singleton club toward dummy. There is no guarantee of success—the club ace may lie over the king-queen, or if the ace is "right," West may put up that card and the club suit still may not break. Observe, however, that with clubs as they actually lie, South's lead of the suit would "fix" the defenders. If West put up the ace, five clubs would become good in dummy; if he did not put up the ace, dummy would win and then South could quickly shift to diamonds, establishing his own suit by passing the first round.

GOOD FEEDING

by AL JOHNSON
NORTHERN FLOUR & GRAIN
ESCANABA, MICH.

MORE AND MORE farmers in this area are discovering Dairy-Lass . . . the new, bulky, nutritious feed packed full of the molasses cows and heifers really go for! Because it's so high in carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins, it makes a valuable addition to your regular feeding rations.

WHEN YOU FEED this balanced ration, along with your pasture, roughage and farm grains, cows build up strong and sturdy for the heavy milk production ahead. Dairy-Lass adds bulk to your regular feed . . . lightens rations "heavy" in corn, wheat or soybean oil meal and supplies the nutrients and minerals lacking in these feeds.

Snowslides Now Are Predictable

Colorado's highway department is expert in locating avalanche danger areas near mountain passes where wind builds up masses of snow on steep slopes. By analyzing snow depth and density and keeping an eye on local weather conditions, it predicts potential slides, usually within eight hours, says the National Geographic Society. Then traffic is blocked off, the slides are blasted loose, and waiting snow plows clear the roads.

Democrats Back Foreign Policy

By CHARLES F. BARRETT
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reviewed administration foreign policy with congressional leaders and reportedly pledged "absolute cooperation and collaboration" with the Democrats.

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles met at the White House with both the Democratic and Republican leaders in Congress in the first postelection test of interparty cooperation. The Democrats will take over control of Congress from the Republicans in January.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.), now chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, left the conference early and talked with newsmen before returning to the Capitol.

Asked whether there was any discussion of how the President will handle foreign policy consultation with the Democrats, Wiley replied:

"The President says there will be absolute cooperation and collaboration."

Army Memory Test Part Of Survey

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some 10,000 Pittsburgh district war veterans have been asked how much they remember of the military knowledge they acquired. Dr. Harry W. Braun, University of Pittsburgh psychologist, requested the veterans to give two hours of their time to complete a questionnaire.

Dr. Braun says the survey will have no bearing on a veterans' possible future service. It is, he said, simply an attempt to compile information on retention of military knowledge and its findings will affect future training programs taken by hundreds of thousands of new servicemen.

The survey is being made for the human resources office of the Department of the Army at George Washington University.

RAILROAD SEEKS TO ABANDON BRIDGE

—One of the highest railroad bridges in the Midwest, this trestle soon may be abandoned if the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad gets permission from the Interstate Commerce Commission. The road seeks to abandon a 36-mile stretch of track between Baldwin and Kaleva, Mich., that includes the structure, which is 1,170 feet long, built in 1888, and strengthened in 1911. It stands 70 feet above the Little Manistee River, and the main span is 150 feet long. (AP Photo)

Ford Barn Fire Kills 10 Horses

DETROIT (AP) — Ten carriage horses died in a fire that destroyed the old Henry Ford barn in Greenfield Village Tuesday.

Dearborn and Ford Engineering fire departments worked two hours to bring the blaze under control. Loss was estimated at $20,000. Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

The horses were used to pull carriages on tours through the village. Two horses out of the barn pulling a carriage at the time the fire was the only animals to escape.

The barn, built in 1863 by late Henry Ford's father, once stood across from the family homestead in suburban Dearborn. It was dismantled in 1943 and rebuilt in the village.

YOU GET 12 EXTRA LOAVES of bread from every 50-lb. sack of KING MIDAS

HERE'S HOW! The King Midas recipe calls for only 10 cups of flour to make 4 loaves of bread.* Recipes recommended by most other leading flours call for 12 cups or more. Allow a half cup per batch for kneading, and you'll get 76 loaves of bread from 50 pounds of King Midas—only 64 loaves from most other flours. That's an extra dozen plump, delicious loaves of bread from every 50 pounds of King Midas.

HERE'S WHY! King Midas is milled from costly premium wheats which make it extra rich in protein and give it extraordinary baking strength. Because it goes so much farther, King Midas costs you less to use than lower-priced, lower-protein flour.

OUR GUARANTEE TO YOU

Try King Midas flour. If you don't agree that it gives you delicious bread—and more loaves of it—it'll gladly refund the purchase price of your King Midas.

Service Speeded By Newspapers

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The nation's newspaper editors heard today that major strides were made during the past year in developing new devices to help newspapers get out faster with a better product.

Some of the major technological improvements were reviewed at a meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn.

A report by the APME Technical Progress Committee listed:

A new chemical etching process which reduces the time for producing metal engravings by 75 per cent or from 20 to 25 minutes.

Putting into service of a vastly improved machine for the facsimile reception of wirephoto picture copy. Biggest advantage for smaller newspapers and TV stations is that facsimile reception requires no attendant or darkroom facilities.

A 600-words-a-minute teletype circuit employing special electronic devices which can transmit in one hour text copy which normally requires about 12 hours by normal teletype transmission.

A 70mm sequence camera, known as the Hulcher Sequence, which can be used with interchangeable lens. It is the first sequence camera developed for specific requirements of newspapers and magazines.

AP used the camera to advantage in the World Series and on the Mariano-Charles fight.

Man's Best Friends Going to College

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Washington and Lee University isn't going to the dogs but the dogs are going to the college.

Professors complained to the administration because stray dogs, petted by students, insisted on attending classes. One big hound, denied admittance at the door, leaped through a window.

The problem was referred to Buildings and Grounds Supt. D. E. Brady, who may become chief dog catcher.

Wanted Meter For Room Decoration

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—An attendant in a gas station spotted a parking meter in the back seat of a car and notified police.

Officers confiscated the meter from two Michigan State College students, who explained they wanted it to decorate their dormitory room.

Tourists May Pan For Real Gold

WICKENBURG, Ariz. (AP)—The annual Wickenburg Gold Rush Days, a feature of the winter tourist season in this dude ranch center, will be held Jan. 28-30. Participants pan for real gold. Finders are keepers. Very small amounts can be recovered from sands near the city.

Floating Bottles Study Lake Drifts

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—If you come upon a bottle with a note in it on the beaches of Lake Huron, it won't be from a shipwrecked sailor or show a map of some lost treasure.

The University of Michigan Great Lakes Research Institution set afloat 500 bottles with postal cards inside to study lake currents.

The trouble with the green light is that it tells both the motorist and the pedestrian to go when sometimes their paths conflict.

When turning left on the green at a traffic signal remember that the pedestrian leaving the far left corner also has the green signal and does have the right-of-way.

Expecting a green traffic signal to clear the whole intersection for you is as foolish as thinking that a check book will let you draw on all the funds of a bank. Actually, when you start to enter an intersection on a green traffic signal there are eight cases where the pedestrian still has the right-of-way. Watch those left turns.

Named as the varsity affirmative duo by Coach Leonard Newendorp are Franklin Lash and Margaret Herzog while varsity negative pair are Kay Bolger and Nina Malnor.

On the reserve affirmative team are Frances Anderson and Lois LeDuc while the negatives are Karen Kliner and Peter Weingartner.

The question suggests establishment of a duty free trade system between the United States and nations which are friendly to us.

Westerns Require Uncluttered Skies

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP)—Producers of old-time Western movies like this area of the country for shooting their films. The reason: Suitable locations can be found off commercial air lanes.

Sounds from modern-day jets and airliners just don't go with scenes of cattle rustlers and Indians. And it's almost impossible to cut out the noise of planes from sound tracks after a movie has been made.

CHAPPELL, Neb. (AP)—Ed Wolf's car was hit by two different trains but he walked away uninjured.

The 78-year-old former mayor of Chappell was driving across the tracks and hit the third car of a westbound streamliner. His car was slammed partially around, still on the tracks. He was helped out of the damaged car and was walking away from the scene when an eastbound freight train smacked the car.

Grier Ivory who is at Whippoorwill on Chippewy Creek made short work of it the first day. John Olson at the Olson-Kallerson camp on the Stonington Peninsula is reported to have tagged one.

Harold Apelgren got a small fork buck said to weigh 65 pounds while at the Olson-Nyberg camp at Stonington.

KIMBALL, Neb. (AP)—Treasure Charles Carlson of the Heath Public School District received a letter containing a $1 bill, which the sender said was in payment of an article "worth about a penny" stolen years ago from a desk in the school house. The letter added "the owner of the article is now dead. I regret very much that I took it. I am therefore sending you as treasurer of the school district a $1 bill that I ask you to use for something needed by the school, preferably a book for the library."

DETROIT (AP)—Constantine Mitre, 28, hurried into a police station to report a vacuum cleaner had been stolen from his car.

The sergeant reached behind his desk and handed over the missing vacuum. A patrol car had picked up a man carrying the cleaner only 10 minutes earlier.

Release Of Alger Hiss Nov. 27 Recalls 5 Years Of Red Hunting

By PETER EDSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— It is something more than a coincidence that within a few days from the time the U. S. Senate is scheduled to take its vote on a resolution to censure Wisconsin Republican Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, Alger Hiss will be released from Federal Prison at Lewisburg, Pa.

The date when Hiss will go free is Saturday, Nov. 27—two days after Thanksgiving. He will be released for good behavior as required by law after serving three years and eight months of a five-year sentence on conviction of perjury.

It was three weeks after Alger Hiss was first found guilty in his second trial before a Federal court—Jan. 21, 1950—that Senator McCarthy made his Lincoln's Birthday speech at Wheeling, W. Va., in which he charged there were still 57 Communists in the State Department. The number was later raised to more than 250.

But it was the Wheeling speech which launched the Wisconsin Senator on his now nearly five-year-old career of anti-Communist crusading.

McCarthy had nothing to do with the exposure or conviction of Alger Hiss. But the Senator hit upon the anti-Communist issue at the correct psychological moment of the Hiss conviction to build up a reputation as the idol of the movement.

Hiss was among the first of the U. S. government's war-time employees accused of betraying American secrets to the Communist Russian government. His name was on the first list of 12 U. S. State Department employees whose loyalty was questioned by Congressmen in 1946.

On May 2 of that year, the late Rep. Gene Cox (D., Ga.) had declared on the floor of the House that a security board, working with the FBI, "have cleaned out hundreds of people in the State Department, and they are going out daily."

On July 20, 1946, former Congressman Bartel J. Jonkman (R., Mich.) replied that, "It is my well-founded opinion that not a single person has been separated from the Department of State exclusively because of doubts as to his loyalty."

Rep. Jonkman reported his findings to Secretary of State James

F. Byrnes and in his press conference a week later, the name of Alger Hiss came out in the open for the first time as suspect.

"Hiss, according to my information, has been in the department for some years," said Secretary Byrnes in answer to a question about him. "I have not kept up with all personal matters, but as far as I know, there is no adverse report from the Security Committee as to Mr. Hiss."

"It is a very serious matter to charge any man with disloyalty to the government," Secretary Byrnes continued. "If you do it—if the government does it—you destroy that man for life. You can ruin a man's reputation in a few minutes. Therefore, in any department—I don't care what department—it must be discreetly and wisely done."

It is a matter of speculation

SHE "WOODEN" SAY—Gretchen, life-size talking doll" from the Black Forest of Germany, refused to comment on her trip as she arrived in San Francisco, Calif., escorted by Lloyd M. Wilson, Frankfurt manager of Pan American World Airways. Gretchen's on a world tour, telling of the delights of the Black Forest as a tourist attraction.

and hindsight now, but it is probable that a sorry chapter of American history would never have been written if this first lead had been followed up aggressively in 1946. Instead, it was to be another two years before the Hiss case was finally exposed by the testimony of Whittaker Chambers, who revealed the now all-too-familiar story of the pumpkin papers. This was before a House Un-American Affairs Committee in which Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota and Richard Nixon of California, then Congressmen, played prominent roles.

In the end, Hiss was not convicted of Communist espionage. He was found guilty of perjury before a U. S. grand jury on two counts: (1) that he lied in denying that he had passed State Department papers to Whittaker Chambers, and (2) that he lied when he denied seeing Chambers after 1937, when that ex-Communist courier broke his contracts.

The U. S. Department of Justice has made no announcement on whether it has other charges to bring against Alger Hiss as he is released from prison. The statute of limitations has run out on most of the still unproven charges that have been made against him. But if a witness were to come forward with new evidence on espionage, the case might be opened again.

So the future of Alger Hiss is most uncertain. He must report regularly to Federal officials as a paroled prisoner until his five-year sentence is up. Having been found guilty of a felony, Hiss cannot vote and he cannot practice his old profession of law, work for the government or travel abroad on a U. S. passport unless granted a Presidential pardon.

Norway's Capital Doubles Boundaries

In 1948 Oslo, Norway's capital, underwent one of the largest city expansions on record. On New Year's Day it bulged out to 26 times its former size by swallowing 175 square miles, says the National Geographic Society. The city now has the distinction of being almost half forest.

Monsters Lived In Early Times

The brontosaurus, long-extinct plant-eating dinosaur, was the largest animal ever to walk the earth, the National Geographic Society says. An average creature measured 70 feet long and weighed more than 30 tons.

Quinn, Corson On All U.P. Team

Lancour Second Team Choice On '54 Squad

By RAY CRANDALL

IRON RIVER — A towering end from Gladstone and a durable center from Manistique landed berths on the 1954 All-Upper Peninsula high school football team that was dominated by the powerful Iron River Redskins.

John Quinn, glue-fingered flanker for Coach Don Pfotenhauer's Gladstone champions of the Great Lakes Conference, stood alone in the battle of ends for the first team in the eyes of the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association.

Bob Corson, the "ironman" in the center of the Manistique Emerald line, easily drew the nod for the pivot position on the first team.

Redskins Land Three

Iron River filled three posts on the first team, with outstanding Eddie Vergara and Gene Tomassucci, repeats from last year's team, being named the outstanding back and lineman of the U. P. Joining the pair from Iron River this year was Vergara's halfback running-mate, Jerry Gallagher. Stambaugh's Chuck Greenlund, highest scorer in the Peninsula scoring end of seven touchdowns and scored in every game on the Gladstone schedule with the exception of Marquette and Ishpeming. He also played left end on defense.

Manistique Institution

Corson was an institution in Coach Dick Bonifas' Manistique lineup. The rugged center, standing 6-1 and weighing 186, played on offense without substitution in the last 25 Manistique games, and on defense in the last 17. An honor student in school, Corson was a standout linebacker on defense and booted 12 of 13 extra-point placements in his last five games.

Lancour was a high-scoring leather-hugger for Holy Name this season with 90 points in eight games, of which the Crusaders won five. The 5-8, 153-pound switch-runner rushed for 690 points in his third year on the varsity. He hit a high of five touchdowns against Crystal Falls.

HONORARY CAPTAIN

James Mongrain, senior end on the Escanaba High School football team who was killed in an automobile accident returning home from the Marinette-Menominee football game Nov. 6, was named honorary captain of the 1954 All-U. P. team. The U. P. Sports Writers named the highly-regarded Eskymo grid star to that position "because of his excellent performances on the Escanaba High School football team, his good conduct and fine display of sportsmanship and high regard by his teammates, opponents, coaches and officials."

This area landed a host of players on the honorable mention list, many of whom ranked just a shade under the players who were placed on the two All-U. P. squads.

Honorable Mentions

Backfield men in that category included Holy Name's Jim Greenwood, whose six touchdowns in the final game of the season set a U. P. record for the 1954 campaign; Tom Brewer, hard-driving Gladstone fullback; Dale Manske, capable junior back at Escanaba; Bill Holm, rugged runner for Manistique and Ralph Anderson, star of the Rock High School squad.

In the line, Gladstone's big right end, Jack Beach, was mentioned. Letters also were presented to 22 reserve players and two students managers and honorable mention was accorded eight varsity players and 12 reserves.

The program opened with a pledge to the flag by Eleanor Soligny, after which Coach Richard Bonifas presented varsity awards and Coach Rudie Brandstrom reserve letters.

The code of the "M," which lists principles by which athletes use their letters, was discussed by William J. Cook, athletic director, and the program closed with the school song, with Loretta Charron as accompanist and cheerleaders leading group singing.

Varsity letters were won by Donald Anderson, Edward Busch, Herbert Calhoun, Robert Carney, Robert Corson, David Cook, James Cowman, Gerald Graphos, Conrad Hoholik, Martin Holmberg, William Holm, Larry Larson, Eddy Leonard, Alroy Mersnick, Melvin Ott, Harold Pawley, George Phillips, Robert Rangue and Philip Olson.

Honorable mention for varsity players went to Carl Anderson, Benjamin Gero, Ronald Johnson, Robert Larson, Jack Rogers, Jack Swartstrom, Tom Grimsley and Larry Schnurer. Student managers receiving letters were Willard Edwards and James Redeker.

Palestra Workout Tonight Postponed

Because of the damage to the Palestra in Marquette by fire Saturday night, the scheduled practice session of the Escanaba Hawks tonight has been postponed.

Palestra officials report that there will be no skating at the rink for at least two weeks, while repairs are under way.

Connie Mack gained fame as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics but he also was a star catcher.

Gene Tomassucci

with 110 points, and Wakefield's potent Gene Valesano rounded out the first team backfield.

Second Team Backs

Flashy Bill Lancour, Holy Name's swift-striding halfback, earned the nod for a second team backfield berth, along with three other high-gear backs made a strong bid for top honors. Bill Pesek of Menominee, Ron Steiner of Iron Mountain and Dick Wertenan were named with Lancour. Steiner is a junior.

Quinn's pass-catching ability made him the leading line candidate on the squad with the single exception of Tomassucci. The Gladstone end snared 20 aerials as the Braves won six games against two losses. The 6-foot, 3-inch, 170-pounder was on the reserve letters.

Isadore Derkos, the only senior in the Holy Name line, and Crusader center Arnold Henriksen were also nominated to the honorable mention list.

In This Corner

And Brewer and other members of the Gladstone football squad will attend the Green Bay Packers-Detroit Lions game at City Stadium Sunday afternoon . . . The players and coaches of the Powers-Spalding Tigers also sat in on the Michigan-Michigan State game Saturday.

Still trying to solve the problem of handling the crowd expected for the opening basketball game at Holy Name's new gym, school officials have switched their plans for tickets . . . The new setup is this: All seats will be sold on an advance, reserved basis . . . There will be 1,000 adult seats available and they will go on sale at the two schools Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week . . . No telephone orders will be accepted, you must apply in person for the tickets . . . Any not sold in advance will be put on sale at the gym ticket office Wednesday night before the game . . . The student reserved seat tickets, also 1,000 in number, are already on sale at Holy Name and Escanaba High School. This system will be used only for the opening game.

Bill Bougie of the Arcadians in the Classic Bowling League cracked a nice 256 count last night, second highest to Phenix Benard's 264 this season . . . And Augie Gartner of Clairmonts picked up the unusual 4-7-9-10 split.

One Spot Open On Gladstone Squad

GLADSTONE — Coach Eldon Keil has pretty well settled on four starters but there is a wide open race for the remaining spot on the Gladstone high school basketball quintet and as they prepare for their opening game against Holy Name on Friday, Dec. 3.

Capt. John Quinn, Jack Beach, Roger Carlson and Norm Butler appear to have starting posts cinched but Larry Feldt, Tom

The program opened with a pledge to the flag by Eleanor Soligny, after which Coach Richard Bonifas presented varsity awards and Coach Rudie Brandstrom reserve letters.

The code of the "M," which lists principles by which athletes use their letters, was discussed by William J. Cook, athletic director, and the program closed with the school song, with Loretta Charron as accompanist and cheerleaders leading group singing.

Furgol Drops Ace On 125-Yard Hole

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ed Furgol, National Open golf champion who injured his one good arm recently, dropped his tee shot for an ace Wednesday on a 125-yard hole.

Robinson's Comeback In Detroit Not Set

DETROIT (AP)—It still isn't definite today that Sugar Ray Robinson will make his first comeback appearance in Detroit Dec. 8.

In New York, one of Robinson's handlers, Joe Glaser, says no. But in Detroit, fight promoter Nick Londen says yes.

Glaser said Wednesday that "We have received propositions from various promoters for Robinson's first comeback fight." "But," he added, "we have not accepted any of them as yet."

That isn't what Londen is saying. Londen says he has telegrams agreeing to the deal—a bout with Joe Rindone of Boston.

Yankees Collect Young Pitchers From Orioles

By ED WILKS

NEW YORK (AP)—In a move to sweep their pitching staff in one sweeping deal, the New York Yankees have picked up Bullet Bob Turley and Don Larsen, a pair of young right-handers, from the Baltimore Orioles.

The trade may involve as many as 12 players. The Associated Press learned from an authoritative source.

In addition to Turley and Larsen, perhaps the most promising of the young pitchers sprinkled among the also-ran teams of the American League, the Yanks also reportedly received shortstop Billy Hunter.

Yanks Give Four

In return, the Yankees gave up veteran outfielder Gene Woodling, pitcher Harry Byrd, first baseman Eddie Robinson, utility infielder Willie Mirand, and Jim McDonald, a 4-1 right-hander. Several minor league players also are said to be involved.

The deal—one of baseball's biggest in recent years—was expected to be confirmed today in two separate press conferences called by the Yankees and Orioles.

Two of the minor league players are believed to be catchers—Gus Triandos, who played at Kansas City last season, and Hal Smith of Columbus (Ohio).

Neither Turley nor Larsen had impressive won-lost records with the seventh-place Orioles. But Turley, 24, powered his fireball for a league-leading strikeout total of 184 and had an earned-run average of 3.46 while winning 14 and losing 15.

Larsen, 26, had a miserable record, winning only 3 of 24 decisions, but still was held in high regard by the league. One of his victories was a shutout against the Yanks.

Byrd Disappoints

The Yanks lost little in giving up Byrd, who finished with a so-so 9-7 record that fell far below the Yanks' expectations when they picked up the 30-year-old hurler along with Robinson in an 11-player deal with the Philadelphia Athletics last winter.

Woodling, 32, a Yankee for the past six years, was hobbled by injuries last season and batted only .250—his lowest mark in nine major league seasons.

Ameche's best single afternoon was against Minnesota as a freshman when he galloped for 200 net yardage. Coach Ivy Williamson would settle for a similar victory Saturday.

The strongest runner in football history, excepting Bronko Nagurski, was the tag hung on Alan (The Horse) Ameche by coach Red Sanders of UCLA a year ago, and the figures back up Sanders' statement.

The 212-pound battering ram, who'll wear Wisconsin's cardinal for the last time at Camp Randall Stadium Saturday against Minnesota, has carried the ball more times and gained more yardage than any other college fullback.

3.319 Yards

Ameche's yardage, including the Rose Bowl game of 1953, totals up to 3.319 in 688 attempts.

The old NCAA ground gaining record of 3.166 yards was set by Ollie Matson of San Francisco three years ago.

A bruising runner who would as soon run over a tackler as avoid him, Ameche has demonstrated his reckless rolling-swinging motion to millions of football fans across the nation via television.

Ameche is fast, for a big man. At 10 yards he can beat any man on the Wisconsin squad and at 40 yards there only a few who finish ahead of him.

Never Passes

The Horse gains all his yardage the hard way—on the ground. He does not pass nor does he receive.

Top Offense, Best Defense To Meet In Big Ten Finale

CHICAGO (AP)—The Ohio State-Michigan showdown Saturday sets the Big Ten statistical leaders together and marks the 12th time in 15 years the football season has gone down to this finale with the title in the balance.

The unbeaten Buckeyes are top-ranked in offense and the Wolverines, beaten once in conference play, are tops in defense, according to official Big Ten figures released today.

Ohio State has the best scoring average, 26.8 points a game, and leads in rushing with a 246.3 average. The Buckeyes have picked up 73.7 more on aerials for a total offense average of 320.

Potent Passing

Purdue, victim of Ohio State's ground attack that measured 407 yards last week, actually leads the Bucks in total yards per game with 322 but is no better than seventh in scoring.

Power Passing

The Boilermakers have averaged more than 208 yards by passing—a pace that represents a new all-time aerial record for the Big Ten if it is maintained against Indiana Saturday.

Because of the aerial yardage,

Purdue has averaged 5.27 yards per play compared to 4.95 for the Buckeyes, who have hit 4.78 yards per running play.

Michigan has allowed opponents the fewest yards, 221 per game, and the fewest points, 6.7 than any other Big Ten team. The Wolverines also have yielded an average of only 3.71 yards per play, which is matched by Wisconsin.

Wisconsin has shown the best defense against running plays, granting foes 2.69 yards per try.

Purdue Leader

Purdue leads in virtually all aerial phases, but Illinois recently has displayed a fine air attack for a completions average of .562 which betters Purdue's .525.

Northwestern, Illinois' opponent Saturday, dominates ball control with 72.6 plays a game to 59.2 for opponents, but still is without a conference victory.

Iowa's Eddie Vincent has entered a strong bid as the Big Ten's champion ball-carrier. With the Hawkeyes' seven-game conference schedule completed, he has totaled 566 yards in 81 trips for 6.9 average.

Ohio State's Bobby Watkins and Wisconsin's Alan Ameche, each with one game to go, trail Vincent in rushing by 102 and 148 yards, respectively.

Advance Collier's Lists All-Americans

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—A Collier's magazine naming the publications' 65th All-Star football team arrived here this week, for some mysterious reason.

A mail subscriber received the Dec. 10 issue of Collier's at Memorial Hospital here Monday. It's the only one in town.

There was no immediate comment from Collier publishers in New York.

The magazine's star team, which everybody in this small town knows by now:

Ends—Max Boydston, Oklahoma; Don Hollerer, Army.

Tackles—Jack Ellena, UCLA; Sid Fournet, LSU.

Guards—Jim Salisbury, UCLA; Bud Brooks, Arkansas.

Center—Kurt Burris, Oklahoma.

Quarterback—Ralph Guglielmi, Notre Dame.

Halfbacks—Dick Moegle, Rice; Howard Cassady, Ohio State.

Fullback—Alan Ameche, Wisconsin.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery.

Plan Tag Day For Park Fund

Members of the Manistique Woman's club, at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in Lakeside School, drafted plans for a "tag day" here Friday to raise funds for development of Central Park.

The club began work on this project a few years ago, and has assigned responsibility for it to a civic committee with Mrs. Elmer T. Lundstrom as chairman. The fund was begun with proceeds obtained from sale of the former youth center.

Plans for the park development here have been drawn, and various groups in the community are accepting responsibility for individual projects. Among these is the Lions club work to provide a bandshell in the park.

Students of Manistique High School will assist club members in the drive for park funds here Friday.

The club program Tuesday afternoon included four vocal solos by Francis E. Barnard, Manistique public school music supervisor and three piano solos by him.

Also a feature of the meeting was a talk on the life of Lily Dache, and of her work in Paris for a hat designer, by Mgs. G. W. Francis of Saginaw. Hats and dresses from 1924 to the present were displayed by Mrs. Francis and modeled by club members.

Hostesses for the "guest day" were Mrs. A. W. Cockram, chairman, and Mrs. Lyle Wilson, co-chairman. Mrs. D. M. Creeger, Mrs. Scott Creighton, Mrs. Glen Critton, Mrs. R. D. Curley, Mrs. Ellsworth Curran, Mrs. James Slinning, Mrs. Carl Wedell and Mrs. Osse Snits.

City Briefs

Mrs. Alex Cooper is teaching in Lincoln school, substituting for Lowell Ellsworth, who is a medical patient in Schooalcraft Memorial Hospital.

Hunting guests at the DeWayne Gilroy home, Rte. 1, are his brothers, Lyle Gilroy of Dearborn and Harland Gilroy of Marysville, and Frank Lucas and Russell Bowman of Port Huron.

Word has been received here that Edward O. Brault, former Manistique resident, was dismissed Saturday from a Grand Rapids hospital where he was a patient for a week for medical checks.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moon, Walnut St., left today for California where they will spend the winter. Enroute they plan to stop at Marshalltown, Ia., where Mr. Moon will be examined at Wolf eye clinic. They will also visit in the Stuts Creek marshes with his brother, Alvin. The deer weighed 175 pounds.

Surgical Dressings

The Hospital Auxiliary surgical dressings committee will meet at 2 p.m. Friday in the dining room of Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital.

Victor Peterson, 329 Schoolcraft Ave., shot an 8-point buck at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday while hunting in the Stuts Creek marshes with his brother, Alvin. The deer weighed 175 pounds.

Picture of Moose Backs Up Report Of Detroit Man

A picture of an 800-pound moose found washed ashore at Garden Corners, and published Oct. 25 in the Daily Press, held special interest in Detroit for Lee B. Je-ne, official for the Packard Motor company.

Je-ne was in Upper Michigan on business a few days last month and reports he saw a moose while driving near the overhead pass on US-2, east of Manistique.

The professor currently is on a tour of Upper Michigan to represent the college, which yearly provides one scholarship for a Manistique student.

He also spoke Wednesday at Cooks High School, which also is allotted one scholarship.

While here, Prof. Cherbourg pointed out that Manistique students have frequently been among outstanding pupils at the mining college.

Tentatively Santa is scheduled to come by helicopter.

College Professor Talks To Students

Ray Cheilborg, professor of chemistry for Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Sault Ste. Marie, spoke to seniors of Manistique High School Wednesday afternoon.

The principal address will be given by J. Earl Cousineau, and Marvin Fredrickson, also of the school faculty, will give the invocation.

The public has been invited to the program. Musical numbers will be sung by the school Glee Club, directed by Francis E. Barnard.

All-America Honors At Stake Saturday

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—All-America prestige will be at stake in the crucial Big Ten football finale between unbeaten Ohio State and obstreperous Michigan at Columbus, Ohio, Saturday.

The immediate business on hand in the Buckeye arena will be an attempt by Ohio State to close with a ninth straight victory and crush Michigan hopes for a title tie and a rival chance for a Rose Bowl bid.

But the Midwest's All-America nominating board will fix close attention on this nationally-televised game to finally weigh the All-American merits of at least three powerful candidates for the Associated Press honor team.

Transplanted Thyroids Work In Young Woman

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Glands taken from a dead baby are apparently still living and working two years later in a young woman's body, two surgeons reported Wednesday.

They are the thyroid gland and the parathyroids, little glands which ride piggy-back on the thyroid.

They are apparently the first case of successful transplanting of these glands for this long a time.

The dramatic case was described to the American College of Surgeons by Doctors Julius A. Sterling and Ralph Goldsmith, of Albert Einstein Medical Center, Philadelphia.

The woman, now 31, had her own thyroid and parathyroids removed in 1941 because her thyroid was too active.

Later, she began suffering from muscular spasms, tremors and pain due to lack of calcium, which is controlled by the parathyroids. An attempt, at another hospital,

Admiral Backs Out On Petition

NEW YORK (AP) — A retired admiral who declined to help circulate a petition against censure of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has been dropped from the list of his sponsors.

The censure question "is a matter before the United States Senate now and not one for the man on the street to settle," said Vice Adm. Gerald F. Bogan at his home in La Jolla, Calif., Tuesday.

Bogan had been listed on the committee for "Ten Million Americans Mobilizing for Justice," an organization circulating the pro-McCarthy petition.

He had been included through a misunderstanding and his name has been removed from the list, said Rear Adm. John G. Crommelin (ret.), who organized the petition campaign.

Crommelin said the response to the drive for 10 million signatures in 10 days has greatly exceeded the sponsors' original hopes.

Few Eating Places In Michigan Serve Oleo With Meals

LANSING (AP) — Very few Michigan restaurants are taking advantage of a state law which allows them to serve oleomargarine instead of butter, an Agriculture Department survey indicates.

The department made a spot check of 146 eating places in Wayne County and found that only three served oleo. In 36 of the restaurants, oleo was used in the preparation of food but was not served to patrons.

Under state law, restaurants may substitute oleo for butter if they post signs to that effect, mention it in the menu, and cut the oleo in triangular patties.

Wayne Institutions Abolish $9,299 Job

DETROIT (AP) — The Board of County Institutions fired its executive secretary, Albert Hargreaves, Tuesday night and abolished his $9,299-a-year job.

Hargreaves, a long-time power at Wayne County General Hospital (Elmhurst), first threatened legal action and then sought demotion to a new post of administrative assistant at $8,500 a year.

The board voted to seek advice from the County Civil Service Commission and the prosecutor's office.

THREE great big cheers for Hon. Fred N. Searl, circuit judge of Grand Rapids, for his contribution to the cause of freedom of the press.

In a court action in Grand Rapids last Oct. 26, Judge Searl was requested to suppress a pleading. Attorneys on both sides concurred in the request for suppression. The judge, however, ruled that once a case comes up in open court it becomes public

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

That call sent out a couple of weeks back to "campus correspondents" for new entries for the first revision of our teen-talk glossary THE REAL GONE LEXICON has resulted in a substantial number of new and lively expressions.

"Prehistoric" like your columnist (note: a "prehistoric" is anyone over twenty-one) will be interested to learn that the military abbreviation A. W. O. L. (usually pronounced AWOL and meaning Absent Without Leave) has acquired a new translation and use among today's undergraduates. When one coed whispers "AWOL" to another, it's as a word of warning, caution or what-have-you. For today it means "A Wolf on the Loose."

Comparative old-timers will also recall the phrase "snow job." A non-com who gave an officer a snow job, was really "uttering him up," saying precisely what the officer wanted to hear in order to impress him favorably with the non-com's all around worthiness. Today's collegiates have abbreviated this to "snow" as a verb. As one correspondent puts it: "snowed means to be highly impressed with something, as 'Joe Schmo was really snowed by Tappa Kappa Beer (fictitious fraternity) up at college."

Another fairly novel phrase, cited by a lad up at Wesleyan College in Connecticut, is "wrack up," meaning to do extremely well in something, as "I certainly wracked up that Chem hour quiz!" Actually, this is a variant—and a misspelled variant at that—of the old phrase "rack up the score," well known to every billiard player.

Incidentally, today's campus character is no more enthusiastic about formal attire, except for one or two ultra-special occasions each year, than was his father. The hard-boiled shirt of his dad's day is anathema to him and he usually wears a soft shirt with his dinner jacket. One in a very great while, though, circumstances force him into formal dress—tails—and that demands a stiff shirt and collar—which probably accounts for the derogatory term he has coined for the collar—"a high, hard yard."

Teensters, "wardens" (parents) and "prehistoric" alike are delighted with THE REAL GONE LEXICON, the first comprehensive glossary of today's teen-talk. For your free copy, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to William Morris, THE REAL GONE LEXICON, in care of this paper.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

Residents of Chapel Hill are partial to a tale of D. C. Jacobsen's about an extremely frugal member of the University of North Carolina faculty. This worthy gent, it appears, had just drawn $35 from his bank, bent upon acquiring some reference tomes at Paul Smith's Intimate Bookshop. No sooner had he turned away from the paying teller's window, however, than his path was blocked by the formidable figure of Native Son Kay Kyser, the popular band leader, who retired while he was about three million ahead.

"I'm bound for lunch," announced Kay. "How's for coming with me?"

"Love to," agreed the professor. Then, glancing down at the seven crisp five-dollar bills in his hand, he added hastily, "I'll join you as soon as I've made this deposit."

George Jessel admits he never had the honor of meeting Winston Churchill. "But I'll tell you how close I came to it," he adds. "I once had dinner at Number 9 Downing Street!"

The Doctor Says... Diabetes Association Is Sponsoring Detection Drive

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.—Written for NEA Service

however.

THE PROPER STEPS must be taken to treat it. Fortunately better methods of doing this are available today than in the past. In mild cases—perhaps in half of the total—attention to diet alone may serve to control the disease. In more severe ones insulin is often desirable in addition to a careful diet.

The use of insulin has also been improved. More is known about how much to give and how often. To, there are now available several different kinds of insulin, such as the slow-acting ones, which can be given to some patients only once a day.

DIABETES DETECTION drives held in the past have been revealing. For example, out of one group of over 166,000 persons tested 768 were diagnosed as having diabetes for the first time—this is not including those who already knew they had it. In another group of approximately 275,000 persons over 6500 showed evidence of the disease. No doubt, also, these large-scale screening tests have stimulated many people to go to their doctors who in turn have surely uncovered many unsuspected cases of diabetes.

All this is to the good because the chances of avoidance of serious complications is enormously greater if a person with diabetes knows it and takes the proper measures. It is not, of course, enough just to realize that one has the disease,

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMAN

LONDON—There is certainly no chance whatever that the Atlantic allies will accept the latest Soviet proposal, which calls for a European conference of 23 nations to meet two weeks from now. It is in fact difficult to suppose that the Kremlin itself thinks that such a mammoth gathering could be organized in two weeks. What with all the experts, who would be numbered in the hundreds, the secretaries, the code clerks and the translators, the newspaper men and the radio and television operators required for the participation of 23 nations, it would be necessary to evacuate dozens of Paris hotels or to build some new hotels in Moscow. Nothing like that can be done, even with all good will, in two weeks.

The size of the proposed meeting is on its face evidence that this is not a proposal for a serious negotiation about the future of Germany. When there is to be a serious negotiation, as in the course of time there surely will be, it will not begin with an international circus but with private conversations.

While there is no chance that the West will agree to this conference, or to any conference to discuss the ratification of the London agreements, it is no less true that the Western governments are in favor of negotiation, preferably through diplomatic channels but if necessary by conference. Their immediate problem is to make clear to European opinion, and particularly to German opinion, why and how the London agreements are compatible with the eventual unification of Germany.

GRIP UNRELAXED

That is a difficult point to make as long as the Soviet Union is able to keep on saying that it favors the reunification of Germany. All the evidence points to the contrary, that the Soviet Union is unable and unwilling to relinquish its hold on the East German government and its control of the military frontier between Poland and Germany. Mr. Molotov has had every opportunity to show something that would mean an intention to relax the Soviet grip on Eastern Germany. He has always been very careful to make no proposal for the unification of Germany which could have been acceptable. He has been the champion of German unity in the manner of a man wishing to be able to talk about it provided there was no danger of its coming about.

Any time he really changes his fundamental position, that is to say any time he shows that the Kremlin has decided to do in East Germany what it is doing in Manchuria, there will be all the negotiation and the conferences that they could desire. The Soviet Union is withdrawing in the Far East. It has yet to take an action which means a similar withdrawal in Europe.

Tito has shown some signs of lessening hostility toward Russia. He might be minded to take Malenkov up on that meeting idea. But first he'd better make sure the proposed island has a sure foundation in bedrock. The Russians might suddenly open throttle and start the island moving gently but surely toward territory where Tito would not feel so much at home.

Why is it that a dog that belongs to somebody else never has much sense?

A college professor says that talking often cures troubles. Sometimes we wish we could find out what cures talking.

Until this happens the unification of Germany is not possible. The real problem is how to co-exist with decreasing tension when there are two Germanies and two Europes. The London agreements do not prevent this co-existence. They may well be used to promote such co-existence.

The Soviet note describes the agreements as providing for "the restoration of militarism in Western Germany." That is not what they are intended to do. The Western nations, including West Germany, were acutely aware of the danger that the rearmament of Germany would open the way to the revival of German militarism.

The heart of the London agreements, the indispensable condition of the agreement to rearm Germany, is the revised Brussels Pact. This extraordinary treaty provides for the limitation of armaments in Western Europe. If it is read constructively, it offers an excellent basis of negotiation with the Soviet Union. It would be a negotiation for a general and reciprocal limitation of armaments in the whole of Europe.

Once the London agreements are ratified, the West will be able to say to the East: "We have put a ceiling of the size of the forces which are to be maintained between the Elbe River and the Atlantic Ocean. Will you do the same for the forces that are to be maintained between the Elbe and the Urals? If so, then we shall put all the forces on the European continent under a limitation openly agreed to. We can then negotiate for a reduction of the size of these forces, and particularly on the size of the forces which are to be maintained in close contact within Germany."

A general, even though small, agreed reduction of the forces now deployed between the Urals and the Atlantic would greatly relax the tension in Europe. It would not be in itself a general settlement of the German question or of the related questions of Eastern Europe. But it would enable Europe to live more easily and securely with these problems, and perhaps in the course of time to outlive them.

Sometimes it's too bad that life in the country agrees so well with relatives from the city.

Cotton Mills Expand Despite Influx Of Test-Tube Fabrics

By HENRY LESESNE

COLUMBIA, S. C.—(NEA)—Despite the continuing upsurge of such "wonder" fibers as rayon, acrylics and the rest of their test-tube sisters, a look at the South's new 1954-55 model cotton mills shows that cotton is still the old pro of the textile industry.

And it's no contest. Today's figures show America consumes more cotton than it ever did—to the tune of a whopping 80 percent of the nation's 12.6 billion pounds of domestic mill fiber produced annually, exclusive of wool.

This comes as a considerable surprise to garment-conscious America and its modern assumptions that anything not made of a wood, chemical or seaweed derivative doesn't even rate an unbroken closet hanger.

The surest barometer of any industry—expansion—backs these figures up. In an era when most supposed King Cotton was a shaky guy, five new mills have been built in South Carolina to handle his business. And in Sevierville, Tenn., a multi-million-dollar bale-to-bolt mill is scheduled for completion early next year.

Despite current adjustment to normal peacetime needs and a drastic decline in U. S. export of textile goods, the cotton industry has been clearing the decks for a standstill since the mid-1920's. In that period, mills reached a peak spindles of about 38 million. It now is at 23 million, but the drop has been brought about by modern production methods, rather than a loss of business.

An old industry, cotton is moving forward on the strength of another basic thing—the birth rate. Over 12,000 babies are born daily in this nation and the Census Bureau forecasts a population of over 200 million by 1975.

All of which brightens the future for the crop which has been more important to the South than its drawl.

"With the population increase, there'll always be a demand for quality textiles. And a well-managed mill nearly always makes a profit."

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Moving spirit of the National Rally for McCarthy held in Washington's Constitution Hall on Veterans' Day was Rabbi Benjamin Schultz of New York. He is a Commie-fighter from back in 1947 and he is now a paid professional.

His full-time job is National Director of the American Jewish League Against Communism.

Rabbi Schultz, born in Brooklyn 48 years ago, got into this business through a series of newspaper articles entitled "Communism Invades the Churches," in 1947. At the time he had been head of the Temple Emanuel-El in Yonkers, N. Y., for eight years.

His articles started a controversy in his own congregation. He resigned. He still maintains his standing as a rabbi, but he has no synagogue and he says his present pay is lower than most rabbis get.

RABBI SCHULTZ ADMITS that many Jews do not agree with his opinions, just as many Catholics do not agree with Bishop Sheil of Chicago and many Protestants do not agree with Bishop Oxnam of Washington.

But a small group of Jews in New York selected him to be heard of the American Jewish League Against Communism. George Sokolsky, the columnist, was one of the founders. Eugene Lyons of Reader's Digest is a board member. Alfred Kohberg of "China Lobby" fame is national chairman. Roy Cohn, Senator McCarthy's former chief counsel, is a new board member.

Incidentally, Schultz has been promoting a number of testimonial dinners for Cohn throughout the east. He also promoted a "Cohn for Governor" write-in campaign in the New York election this year.

It was at the Cohn testimonial dinner in Baltimore in early October that the idea for a "March on Washington" to support McCarthy was born. The main idea was to have delegations from as many states as possible call on their senators personally and demand that Senator McCarthy not be censured, but be commended for his fight on Communism.

THE SHOOTING DOWN OF Joe McCarthy is just like the shooting down of a B-29," says Schultz as he warms to his favorite subject.

"The leaders of the McCarthy censure movement are dominated by elements that favor the admission of Red China to the United Nations," he continues. "They are out to 'get' every anti-Communist in the United States."

The rabbi emphasizes the "they" and the "get." But when questioned about who "they" are, he refuses to name names although he boasts that he has publicly called Owen Lattimore a Communist and dared him to sue for libel.

Schultz then continues:

"After McCarthy comes Admiral Strauss. The pro-Communists will never forgive Admiral Strauss for getting Oppenheimer."

The references here are to Admiral Lewis L. Strauss, now chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, who last summer took the initiative in having the security clearance lifted on Princeton scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer, war-time head of the Los Alamos, N. M., laboratory, where the first A-bombs were built.

SCHULTZ WAS ASKED TO IDENTIFY these pro-Communists, or to name any senator whom he considered a pro-Communist. He declined to do so. But he defined a "pro-Communist as any 'anti-Communist.'

After Admiral Strauss, "Vice President Nixon is next" in this pro-Communist purge, Schultz predicts confidently.

"They're trying to get the Congressional committees investigating communism, too," he goes on. Rabbi Schultz thinks that Senator John L. McClellan (D., Ark.), and Rep. Francis E. Walter (D., Pa.), who have advocated reorganization of congressional investigation machinery on Communism, are sincere men. "But they don't realize the source of their own thinking."

"Many ideas," the rabbi explains, "are manufactured in the minds of smart young public relations men on Madison Ave."

The reference here is to New York's big advertising agencies.

The Angels Fell

THE STORY: The body of District Attorney Barnet Larkin has been discovered on a lonely road, and Paul Flagg knows that he or his ex-wife Dina are prime suspects in the case. Dina had been Larkin's wife at the time of his death. Paul had found Larkin's body in his apartment and had moved it with the help of Martha Paley, Paul's boss, to save Joey, son of Paul and Dina, from being known as the son of a murderer. Paul makes unsuccessful efforts to find Dina. Now he learns that police are connecting him with the crime.

I reached for a cigarette. When I had a light, I said: "Are you a detective?"

"Not exactly. I'm an investigator for the district attorney's office. Barnet Larkin was my boss." He unbent a little. "My name is Russ Handy."

"Mine's Paul Flagg."

We didn't shake hands.

"Mrs. Larkins' first husband, eh?" he said. "I'd heard she had a kid that wasn't Larkin's."

Handy's hat kept rolling between his fingers; they were the only part of him to which he permitted movement. "Let's see, the West Amber chief is named Watrous. A kid."

"He's all right," I said.

"Well, we'll work with him."

Emotion came into Handy's voice. "The office is on its ear, disorganized, because the D. A. is suddenly gone. Boy, would the D. A. have liked to dig his teeth into this case." He laughed briefly, more like a snort. "Imagine that, investigating his own murder."

All at once he was crisp. "What do you mean, Watrous told you? Did he question you?"

"Only because I was somebody in West Amber who had known Larkin."

Russ Handy put on his hat. "I'm pushing on to the scene of the crime. Going back to West Amber?"

"I'll wait here for Mrs. Larkin."

"Suit yourself," he said and moved to the door. His stride was militarily erect.

For a long time nothing happened.

The girl was halfway up the walk before I was aware of her. Over the years I had not been "Couldn't you think up a better one?" I said.

"You can insult me," she said evenly, "but that doesn't alter fact that she was seen yesterday going to your house with a briefcase."

"What was in it?"

Her hands on either side of her hips gripped the porch rail. "Surely Dina said something to you about it."

"I didn't see her."

"But I thought—" She caught her lower lip between her teeth, and I saw that she was afraid.

"She did come to my place," I told her, "but while I was at work. My landlady saw her. But when I got home, Dina was gone."

She left the rail, went down the steps. When she was on the paved walk, she turned her head as if remembering my presence. "If you see the briefcase or hear about it, I'd appreciate — well, it's terribly important to me."

At a quarter after four I gave up, waiting and started back to West Amber.

The warehouse had that closed-down, after-hours look, but as I stopped my car I saw several people in the office. Although it was 12 minutes after five, Mrs. Fleming hadn't left yet, and Ted Gallagher and Jack Dwight were there also. Martha was the only one of the four who sat. She twisted in her desk chair when I entered.

"She hasn't turned up yet," I said.

Martha thumped a cigarette on her desk. "Chief Watrous was here and hour or so after you left, Jack, tell Paul about the photo."

Jack Dwight ran the tip of his tongue over his lips. "The chief came with a picture of a guy and showed it around. It was the same guy was here yesterday and asked for you."

Radio Stations Test Air Warning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hundreds of commercial radio stations joined military and civil defense authorities in testing a plan to inform the public during an enemy attack without aiding hostile bombers.

Results of the nationwide test may not be known for a month or more—until scores of reports are received by mail in Washington and evaluated.

Communications officials estimated in advance that 1,300 of the nation's 2,000 radio stations would take part in the fourth annual test of the "conelrad" system, from 1:30 to 4:30 a.m., local time.

Many stations remained on the air longer than usual to participate in the "pool" broadcast, designed to keep the public informed in an air attack without permitting enemy bombers to ride a radio beam to a particular station.

Air Force planes ranged across the country and off the coasts during the drill, checking whether the broadcasts could be used as a navigational aid.

All stations in an area used the same wavelength and the same program, with each transmitting the program on a rotation plan designed to keep no single station on the air for more than 10 to 30 seconds at a time. None of the stations identified themselves.
